The Global Junior Challenge

A world-wide award for the most innovative information technology projects in the field of education and training.

The award is open to students, schools, companies, institutions, private and public organisations, and individuals that are developing projects aimed at helping children and young adults to become familiar with new technology.

The winning projects will be announced on 4 December 2000 in Rome at the Campidoglio City Hall by the Head of the Italian State, Mr. Carlo Azeglio Ciampi, during a ceremony hosted by the Mayor, Francesco Rutelli.

An international jury will select the most innovative projects and the finalists will be invited to Rome to participate in a large exhibition that will take place at the Rome Fair on 4 - 6 December 2000.
